

The Seattle School

OF THEOLOGY & PSYCHOLOGY

The dream of The Seattle School of Theology & Psychology began around a kitchen table, where a gathering of a few passionate dreamers dared to imagine transformational education through a deep commitment to relationality.

Established in 1997, The Seattle School resides in the heart of the Belltown neighborhood of Seattle, Washington. Offering three progressive graduate programs: M.A. in Counseling Psychology, Master of Divinity, and M.A. in Theology & Culture; we are committed to training and developing therapists, pastors, artists, leaders, and activists for a world in need of complex thinkers and healers.

We are an unashamedly Christian institution which invites thoughtful dialogue and reflection through the disciplines and practice of theology, psychology and spirituality. Because we are centered in the revelatory and redemptive centrality of the person of Jesus Christ, we intentionally practice discourse, collaboration, mission, and life together.

Our mission is to train people to be competent in the study of text, soul, and culture in order to serve God and neighbor through transforming relationships.

Our mission is rooted in our core values of integration, formation, and sustainability and embodied in our distinctives:

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDY
NARRATIVE

FORMATION
RELATIONSHIP

DIALOGUE
INTERCULTURAL CREDIBILITY

ACCREDITATION & AUTHORIZATION

The Seattle School of Theology & Psychology is accredited by the Commission on Accrediting of the Association of Theological Schools (ATS) in the United States and Canada. The Seattle School is authorized by the Washington Student Achievement Council and meets the requirements and minimum educational standards established for degree-granting institutions under the Degree-Granting Institutions Act. The Department of Education has certified that The Seattle School is eligible for Title IV student financial aid assistance under the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended (HEA).
