*Thank you so much for your interest in The Seattle School Student Leadership!
Please answer the following questions in the space provided or on a separate page if you want more room. This application will only be read by the Student Leadership Quad, Becca Shirley, and Paul Steinke. Please do not answer with what you think we want to hear but rather with who you are and what is helpful to you to articulate as you consider this position.*

1. What are you passionate about? How have you embodied these passions in the past?
2. Read the Student Leadership portion of The Seattle School website: <https://theseattleschool.edu/students/student-life/>, as well as the section found there on your realm of interest. How do you imagine your passions being embodied within the context of the realm(s) for which you are applying?
3. Often as student leaders, we must work toward goals/needs/objectives about which we are not passionate. Describe how you might respond to such a challenge?
4. What needs do you see within The Seattle School, Belltown, or your own neighborhood community that you would like to move toward? How would you do so?
5. Anything else you'd like us to know about you?
